WET FEET CAUSED TROUBLE

Mrs. Coram Couldn't Avoid It, But Friend In Need Promptly Remedies The Mischievous Chief Done.

Tampa, Fla.—Mrs. E. C. Coram, of 2905 Highland Avenue, says: "I was very weak and worn out from womanly troubles. My husband bought me two bottles of Cardui to take as a tonic, and from the first day it seemed to me I felt its good effects. By the time I had used the two bottles I felt and looked like a new woman."

Some time later I got my feet wet at the wrong time, and I turned to Cardui to remedy the mischief done. Before I had taken one bottle it gave me the needed relief.

I gave the rest to a friend for her daughter, who was suffering with similar troubles, and it cured her.

Cardui has had a most wonderful curative effect upon me. I am now 59 years of age, and feeling well. I constantly praise Cardui to all my sick friends. It is a wonderful remedy."

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., November 14.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, on his way South for a little recreation, stopped off here this afternoon to spend a day or two at his alma mater, the University of Virginia. The coming of the distinguished visitor was unheralded, and he had remained around town and college for an hour or more before he was recognized. He passed the day at the University, just as the football team was filing out, and, like a lover of the great gridiron sport, followed the players down on the field, and was an interested spectator throughout the work.

He was first recognized by W. C. W. Chester, of Columbia, S. C., who is here to assist in preparing the team for the annual game with Georgetown on Saturday. The Governor inquired as to the team's record, and congratulated Head Coach Vanecey on his success as a coach.

Leaving Charlottesville, he said about dark, Governor Wilson stopped in to pay his respects to President Alderman. He is a guest of his old college mate, Professor Richard Heath Dabney, dean of the graduate department.

To-morrow he will dine with President Alderman, and later in the evening will leave for Staunton, the place of his birth. After a brief stay in Valley City he will go direct to St. Augustine, Fla., for quiet and rest.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Woodstock, Va., November 14.—Sunday during a hard rain a band of gypsies, composed of two men and two women, asked that they be permitted to spend the night in Rush's livery stable. Some time during the evening the younger of the women, who said her name was Ethel Holland, of Portsmouth, N. H., told Mrs. Rush that she was being detained against her will, and that the other members of the band had threatened to kill her if she told about it. Mrs. Rush told this to the county officials, who immediately took charge of the girl, against the wishes of the other members of the band.

The young woman says she is seventeen years old, and was taken away from Portsmouth against her will, that she had been held a prisoner since then, and this was the first chance that she had had to communicate with any but members of the band of gypsies.

Miss Holland will be sent back to Ohio, and the others of the band were allowed to go.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Salisbury, Md., November 14.—The homes of this city have been turned over to the ministers and lay delegates of the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will convene in its 123rd annual session here in the morning. Scores of delegates to the conference have been arriving all day on the regular train, but the bulk of the membership arrived at 5 o'clock on a special conference train, the New York Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad had a special boat leaving Norfolk this morning at 11 o'clock. This boat was met at Cape Charles, Va., by a special train, which, when it arrived in this city, was met by at least fifty automobiles, which carried the members and lay delegates to the homes that had been assigned to them in the different parts of the city. Rev. J. Franklin Carr, pastor of the Trinity Church here, where the sessions of the conference will be held, had this part of the entertainment in charge and, assisted by a number of the citizens of Salisbury, had all the 350 ministers in the different homes in fifteen minutes after they arrived. Upon the arrival of the special train there was a large crowd at the depot, automobiles, and a band of music, and a grand shout and blowing of automobile horns greeted the ministers as they poured from the train.

Bishop John Carlisle Kilgo, of Durham, N. C., who will preside at the conference, was one of the first to alight from the special. He was met at the station by Rev. E. J. Jackson in her automobile and immediately taken to her home, "The Oaks," near by, where he will be entertained during the sessions of the conference.

The conference will convene in Trinity Church, which is a gift of Mrs. E. E. Jackson, and one of the handsomest churches in the Virginia conference, to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, when the first business session will be held. The opening sermon will be preached in the evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Christian, D. D., assisted by Rev. C. H. Spooner. The citizens of this city have opened their doors to the ministers, and as one of the arrivals to-night said: "We did not realize that such hospitality could be found outside of Virginia, but it has remained for the good people of Salisbury, a Maryland town, to show us Virginians some points along this line."

To-night the first committee meeting was held at Trinity Church of the different missionary boards. Very little business was transacted.

Among those who arrived to-day on the special train were: C. E. Watts, B. F. Lipscomb, J. T. Whitely, G. W. Wray, J. T. Bosman, T. G. Edwards, T. N. Potts, H. E. Johnson, R. H. Potts, W. T. Green, J. C. Newton and W. A. Cooper, who are former pastors of the Trinity Church here, and every one was accorded a special reception and hearty address of welcome, after which the synod was formally organized by the election of the following officers: President, Bishop Rondthaler; Vice-President, Rev. J. A. Hall, of Clemmons; Secretary, Rev. L. G. Luckenbach, of Fairview Church.

The report of the committee on credentials was then read and the various committees were announced.

At the business session this afternoon excellent reports were submitted by the Provincial Board of Elders, Financial Board and the Church Aid and Extension Board. An ordination service and celebration of the Holy Communion took place to-night.
